pounds of refrigerant added over past 365 days

(or since the last successful follow-up verification test showing all identified leaks in the appliance were repaired, if that period is less than one year)

Leak rate = \( \frac{\text{leaks in the appliance were repaired, if that period is less than one year}}{\text{pounds of refrigerant in full charge}} \) \times 100\%

(\% per year)